

FORMAT

The temporary time table intends registration and welcome reception on Sunday.

Paper presentations (lectures and posters), last minute poster communications and the exhibition will be available from Monday to Wednesday. The programme will be structured into parallel sessions, including an extended poster session with a poster party. Additionally selected posters will be given a short slot for oral presentation within the programme.

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION FOR POSTER COMMUNICATION

The Loss Prevention 2016 Abstract Submission is handled by the European Process Safety Center (EPSC) on behalf of DECHEMA e. V. The call for authors wishing to present a contribution (lecture or poster) combined with a full scientific paper was already closed on 15. March 2015.

However, abstracts of one page (maximum of 500 words) for Poster Communications can be submitted until 1 March 2016, provided there is capacity available for further posters. Please note that these posters will not be selected for an oral presentation and will not be connected to a full paper publication.

The abstracts for Poster Communication will be reviewed within 3 weeks of their submission.
